

PRESENTATION ABSTRACT

Trailhead Labs' outdoor technology platform, OuterSpatial, has grown by leaps and bounds over the last year. In this presentation, Nate will give an update on what has changed and what's planned for the rest of 2019.

BIO

Nate leads product for Trailhead Labs, a company that partners with government agencies and nonprofits to build technology that engages people with the outdoors. Prior to moving to Trailhead Labs, Nate led the National Park Service's NPMap team, which focused on developing digital maps and mobile applications for National Parks.
