Biography

Neil Allen is the Cartography Manager for Benchmark Maps. He's been with the company since the 1st edition of their first atlas back in 1995 where he began as an entry level cartographer working under Stuart Allan. Since then he's helped create thousands of maps throughout his career. He has also served the North American Cartographic Information Society as a board member and president in 2012. When the ownership of Benchmark Maps changed in 2012, Neil was promoted to overseeing the cartography arm of the company. Neil has also earned and maintained his GISP certification since 2006.
